Presentation:
"Studying in Baden-Württemberg"

Presenter: Emily Westhoven, Representative, Baden-Württemberg International emily.westhoven@bw-i.de

In today's increasingly globalized world, it's smart to think beyond borders --- even when it comes to thinking about college.

In Germany – Europe's economic powerhouse – Baden-Württemberg is one of its leading economic regions and home to many world-class universities. The state prides itself in having the greatest concentration of universities within Germany and the most diverse higher education landscape.

This presentation will review what parents and students should know when considering studying in Germany, i.e.

- Introduce what the country and state of Baden-Württemberg have to offer
- Explain the German higher education system and the type of universities
- Provide examples of universities in Baden-Württemberg
- Review the application process to a university as an applicant from the U.S.
- Explain the costs associated with studying at a university
- Provide resources on where to find more information on this topic
